GUIDE TO WALL & FLOOR TILES

The sizes listed of all our wall and floor tiles are a nominal sizing and can sometimes vary inside a box and between batches and colours. Due to the firing process in the manufacturer of tiles a certain size tolerance is deemed acceptable providing adequate spacing is applied.

Our floor tiles are sourced from around Europe and therefore, are all graded slightly different depending on the factory from which they came from. Please see the description next to the tile to see whether or not the tile is suitable for your application. Please be aware that the tiles resistance is not only influenced by these descriptions but also by where it is laid. For example, an area that is subjected to a lot of gravel or grit will deteriorate the tile quicker over time than a clean environment.

Some of our tiles are tested by the manufacturer for slip resistance using method DIN51130. Listed below are the tile ranges within this catalogue that have a slip-rating.

Guide to Slip Resistance Ratings

R9 Anti Slip Rating

Provides minor resistance to slips, making them best suited for use in dry internal spaces such as dining rooms. If using in a bathroom we recommend a bath mat for stability.

R10 Anti Slip Rating

Will provide minor to moderate resistance to slipping, ideal for use in hallways, kitchens, and other living spaces including bathrooms and some commercial applications.

R11 Anti Slip Rating

Will provide moderate resistance to slips, and can be deemed safe for use in almost any interior/ exterior space, including kitchens, bathrooms, wetrooms and outdoor areas.

R12 Anti Slip Rating

R12 is the minimum recommended slip rating for tiles that are to be used in business, industrial and public settings, or any instance in which tiles are needed for a sloped surface.

For outside spaces, to determine whether a tile is suitable for use depends on how much water it absorbs. As a general rule Glazed Porcelain and Through Bodied Porcelain are suitable. However please ask for advice when purchasing.

Please note, all floor tiles can be used on walls providing substrate is suitable for the weight of the tile including the adhesive, again please ask for advice if you have any queries.

All tiles can be prone to "bowing," this is caused in the firing process and is unavoidable. All our tiles are produced to comply with European standards and tolerances. Ensure that you are happy with the finish before laying commences especially if you are planning to lay the tiles in a brick style.

To help keep your tiles in the best condition possible, we recommend the use of Lithofin cleaning products and sealers for all our natural products.

TRANSFORMING YOUR OUTDOOR SPACE

INSTALLATION
- USING SAND & CEMENT

DRY INSTALLATION
- ON RAISED SUPPORTS

DRY INSTALLATION
- ON GRAVEL OR SAND

DRY INSTALLATION
- ON GRASS

Our outdoor porcelain tiles offer a modern, sleek look that brings interior design to the outdoors. With a thickness of 20mm, these tiles are perfect for patios, terraces and pathways and will transform your garden into a space that you will be able to enjoy throughout the year.

Creating a patio may require a professional installer, though, there are simpler methods you can do yourself that will make all the difference to your garden.

On Sand & Cement (Mortar)

A stable flat foundation comprising of a hardcore base, is essential for your tiles to sit on.

Combine sand and cement in the correct ratio (usually 4:1) and mix together with water.

Using a slurry primer to the underside of the tile place tile in position on top of a 50mm bed of mortar. Fill the gaps with mortar or exterior grout.

Advantages

- Perfect for patio areas and general spaces of heavy usage
- Suitable for swimming pool sides
- Very stable and long lasting

On Raised Supports

Can only be used on top of a sturdy level base such as concrete or over existing tiles or slabs. During installation, if there are any areas that are not level, the supports can be adjusted to achieve a flat surface.

The raised installation allows for effective water drainage and offers space for electrical equipment and plumbing facilities (see page 17).

Advantages

- Simple to install, no need for adhesives
- Supports can be adjusted to compensate for uneven surfaces
- Gives clearance under the slabs allowing room for cables and other systems

On Gravel or Sand

Simple and rapid, with dry installation on gravel or sand, there is no need to use adhesives or grout. Make sure the area is level by using a rake before laying your tiles. After installation, the surface can be used immediately.

This solution also facilitates drainage of water and allows you to remove the slabs and use them elsewhere as they are not a permanent fixture.

Advantages

- Simple to install, no need for adhesives
- Slabs can be removed and used elsewhere
- Allows drainage of rainwater

On Grass

Create a pathway and add a personal, stylish touch to your garden.

The immediate area to be tiled has to be prepared by applying a layer of gravel onto which the slabs will be placed. The gravel bed gives more stability and compensates for any differences in level. We advise leaving a gap between the slabs to allow grass to grow through.

Advantages

- Simple to install, no need for adhesives
- Slabs can be removed and used again and again
- Allows you to achieve a visual impact in no time at all

Raised Supports, why use them?

Using our 20mm garden tiles are an excellent choice for anyone looking for a durable, stylish, and low-maintenance solution to enhance their outdoor spaces. Whether you are creating a relaxing patio, a functional walkway, or a decorative garden path, garden tiles offer a wide range of benefits to suit your needs.

There are several options on how you can install our outdoor tiles as highlighted on page 3, one of which is the use of pedestals, so why use them?

Levelling Uneven Surfaces: Paving pedestals help create a level and stable base even on sloped or uneven surfaces. This is particularly useful for areas where traditional mortar or adhesive methods might not be effective.

Quick and Easy Installation: Using pedestals simplifies the installation process. They can be placed quickly without the need for digging, excavation or time consuming mortar setting and curing. (Providing you have an existing solid base).

Easy Drainage: They allow for better water drainage underneath the surface, which helps prevent water accumulation or pooling.

Paving Pedestals create a level surface, are adjustable, easy to install, and require minimal maintenance, providing long-term durability and flexibility. As no adhesive is involved if your moving house the tiles and pedestals can even be removed for use in your new property! If you need further information speak to one of the DTW Ceramics team.

Adjustability: Paving pedestals are height adjustable, allowing for precise control over the level of the flooring. This flexibility makes it easier to create a smooth, uniform surface over irregular areas.

Easier Maintenance and Access: Since the system is raised, it creates an accessible void space between the paving surface and the underlying structure, making it easier to access utilities, wiring, or pipes for maintenance without needing to remove the entire surface.

Aesthetic Flexibility: Paving pedestals can accommodate various types of paving materials, including stone, wood, concrete, and porcelain tiles.
